vermeer 505 super i supposed to do this?

when baling there is a idler on the left side of the baler next to the main drive chain when the bale gets to about 2.5 ft in diameter the chain starts getting loose on the bottom and tight on top and the idler is coming up. (i thought that is where it was skipping teeth but after watching it more closely its the main drive chain that was slipping but i tightend the tensioner on it and stopped ...
