Outdoor. Because Girls Scouts is girl-led, she'll pick the topic that interests her most, whether it's caring for animals; taking a stand for girls; exploring science, technology, engineering, or math (STEM); helping others; spreading kindness; protecting the environment; or anything else important to her. As she goes on her Journey,...

aMUSE in a Day Journey

At many of the Girl Scout leader retreats and trainings, the main advice service units, councils and seasoned leaders give: "don't get bogged down in the details.". The books are full of ideas, but are not "requirements.". A journey doesn't have to take six months to complete or feel like "school" to the girls.
